

Eric the Erratic – the movie:

[Total time 00:01:49]

"I am a granite boulder that was once part on the Mendenhall Towers about 7 miles up the valley. The grinding of the glacial ice caused me to break off the side of the mountain and tumble down 60 feet. I landed on top of the glacier and came to rest on the icy surface. For 80 years I rode on the glacier until I was deposited on a flat piece of ground in the Mendenhall Valley. I am called an erratic because I didn't fit in with the rest of the landscape."

➤ About the presentation: The website original is in flash format; I created a video of the computer screen playing, and imported that into iMovie.

➤ Source:

Tongass National Forest — Mendenhall Glacier Visitor Center
(2005). Eric the Erratic – the movie. Updated October 3, 2005. URL:
http://www.fs.fed.us/r10/tongass/districts/mendenhall/eric_movie.html.
Visited November 20, 2005.